Blessing for the commencement of Greek Dancing School in Canberra

Yesterday afternoon, Monday 14 February, His Grace Bishop Bartholomew of Charioupolis, Archepiscopal Vicar of Canberra conducted an Agiasmo service for the commencement of greek dancing lessons in Canberra.

His Grace was assisted by Reverend Father Petros Kipouros from the church of St Nicholas in Canberra. His Grace conveyed the love and blessings of His Eminence Archbishop Makarios, a proud greek who promotes and values our rich culture.

His Grace thanked the teachers for offering their time to teach the children and thanked the parents for bringing their children to dancing lessons. Finally he wished the children a blessed year and presented them an icon of St Nicholas.
