Second part of mini-series on life of St. Paisios airs tonight in Greece

The second part of a television series recounting the life and works of St. Paisios, will be aired today by the Athens-based Mega channel.

The Greek-language series, entitled “St. Paisios – From Farasa to the Heavens”, was shot on location on Mount Athos and the northwest town of Konitsa, where the 20th century was raised as a child.

In its debut last week, the series, produced by the St. Maximos the Greek Institute, was the most watched evening program of the day, with viewers estimated as exceeding 1.5 million.
