25/02/2022

Synaxis of Greek Orthodox clergy of New South Wales

A meeting of clergymen serving in Greek Orthodox parishes of New South Wales took place on Thursday at the parish of St Catherine in Mascot, Sydney, and chaired by Archbishop Makarios.

During the meeting, or synaxis, a productive discussion and dialogue was held on issues of a mainly spiritual nature, focusing on the Orthodox ecclesiastical ethos and mindset, something that was the subject of an address of Archbishop Makarios.