‘Man of God’ debuts in selected US movie theaters this month

The award-winning film “Man of God”, which recounts the life, works and trials of St. Nektarios of Aegina, opened in selected movie theaters in the United States this month.

The film, directed by Yelena Popovic and with Greek actor Aris Servetalis portraying St. Nektarios, was watched by more than 42,000 movie-goers in the US.

The St. Maximus the Greek Institute is one of the devotional film’s producers.
