Celebrations commemorates 201st anniversary of liberation of Kalamata from Ottoman yoke

Greek President Katerina Sakellaropoulou attended celebratory events on Wednesday in the southern city of Kalamata, commemorating the 201st anniversary of its liberation from dour Ottoman rule.

Events commenced with a con-celebratory Doxology service at the historic Cathedral of the Holy Apostles, officiated by the Metropolitan of Messinia, His Eminence Chrysostomos, and the Metropolitan of Mani, also His Eminence Chrysostomos.

A prayer service and the laying of wreaths followed at a memorial monument for the fallen.
