Bishop Kyriakos of Sozopolis tests positive for coronavirus – His programmme for Holy Week to be modified

The Archiepiscopal Vicar of Melbourne, His Grace Bishop Kyriakos of Sozopolis, recently tested positive for the coronavirus, and as a result, his programme as per a previous announcement for Great and Holy Week will be modified.

As His Grace Bishop Kyriakos of Sozopolis will remain under home quarantine in the coming days, he will not attend the Divine Services scheduled as per the aforementioned programme until Holy Wednesday.

Instead, the published schedule for the period from Holy Thursday to Easter Sunday will be followed normally, a day that will be celebrated at the Vespers of Love at the Holy Church of Saint Eustathios in South Melbourne.
