

Orthodox Archdiocese of America's Synod of Bishops deals with Hellenic College issues

Crucial issues affecting the Hellenic College and its affiliated Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology, both in Massachusetts, were on the agenda of a recent meeting of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America's Synod of Bishops.

An official announcement by the Synod noted that decisions were taken to ensure the revival of the specific Church-related higher educational institutions.