The Ecumenical Patriarch at the Theological School of Halki

Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew arrived at the Theological School of Halki yesterday, Thursday, June 2, 2022, to participate in the conference “Eco Well-being: Environment, Animals, Ethics” that has been held there since yesterday afternoon.

The conference aims to highlight the ethical rules that govern the tripartite environment-animal-human relationship, in the light of ecology, philosophy and theology, as well as the attitude that humans should show towards animals and their ecosystems.
