Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew briefs prefect of Constantinople over upcoming assembly of Orthodox Youth

The Ecumenical Patriarch of Constantinople, His All Holiness Bartholomew I, accompanied by Bishop Paisios of Xanthoupolis and the Archon Panteleimon, on Wednesday morning paid a visit to the Bosporus metropolitan area's prefect, Ali Yerlikaya, in order to brief the latter over an upcoming assembly of Orthodox Youth, to be held in Turkey.

The four-day event, beginning on Sept. 1, is being organized and hosted by the Ecumenical Patriarchate.
