Serbian delegation of theologians, seminary students again visiting Metropolis of Katerini this August

A large group of Serbian theologians and seminary school students, with the blessing of the Patriarch of Serbia, His Holiness Porfirije, arrived late last week for a visit to the Metropolis of Kitros, Katerini & Platamon, in north central Greece.
The group of pilgrims will remain in Greece until the great Feast Day of the Dormition of the Theotokos, the Virgin Mary, on Aug. 15.

The occasion marks the sixth straight year that a Serbian delegation of theologians and seminary students has been hosted at the Metropolis by resident Metropolitan Georgios.

In addressing members of the departing delegation, the Bishop of Hozvan, and elected Bishop of the Serbian Church for Western Europe, His Grace Justin, referred to the significance of theology schools as well as to the fraternal love, as he said, which binds the Serbian and Greek people.
