22/08/2022

Archbishop of Ieronymos attends unveiling of memorial for Asia Minor, Thracian Hellenism

The Archbishop of Athens and All Greece, His Beatitude Ieronymos, visited the south-central Greece city of Atalanti over the weekend to attend the unveiling of a memorial for Asia Minor and Thracian Hellenism.

His Beatitude was warmly greeted in the courtyard of the St. Sophia Cathedral by the resident Metropolitan of Fthiotida, His Eminence Symeon, along with clerics of the Metropolis, local office-holders and numerous faithful.