

Icon of the Panaghia in Hawaii streams myrrh

A video is posted today on the pages of the Orthodoxy news agency showing Hawaii's Myrrh-streaming Iveron Icon, which began excreting myrrh in 2007, when it was found in the library of an Orthodox Christian couple living in the Pacific island.

The icon, depicting the Panaghia, or Virgin Mary, has been declared miraculous by the Russian Orthodox Church.