Russian Patriarch Kirill officiates at Divine Liturgy in Moscow with visiting Metropolitan of Montenegro Joanikije

The Patriarch of Moscow and All Russia, His Holiness Kirill, on Tuesday officiated at the Divine Liturgy at the Metropolitan Cathedral of the Dormition of the Theotokos, a service co-officiated by the visiting Metropolitan-Bishop of Montenegro and the Littoral, His Grace Joanikije, and the Bishop of Slavonia, His Grace Jovan.

The two hierarchs of the Serbian Orthodox Church arrived in Moscow at the invitation of His Holiness, in order to participate in a Russian-Serbian festival hosted at the St. Tikhon Orthodox University of Humanities in Moscow.
