Press interview by Archbishop Ieronymos

An interview with the Archbishop of Athens and All Greece, His Beatitude Ieronymos, was published in the Sunday edition of the Athens daily “Kathimerini”. Among others, His Beatitude stressed that he has given a five-day ultimatum to an Athens-area priest and several monks that appear as his spiritual children, to evacuate the chapel of St. Isidoros, located on Lycabettus Hill, in the center of the Greek capital.

The Archbishop of Greece calls on the latter to transfer to a recognized ecclesiastical institution, otherwise the Church’s canonical order will be implemented.
