Archieratical Vesper at the celebrating Cathedrals of St. Demetrios of Brahami, and city of Halkida

Numerous faithful and congregants attended the archieratical Vesper at the celebrating Cathedral of St. Demetrios, at the same-name and dedicated municipality in the central Athens, on the eve of the feast day of Demetrios the Myrrh-streamer & Great Martyr of Thessaloniki.

The service was officiated by the Archdiocese of Athens' Bishop of Roges, His Grace Filotheos, and co-officiated by several hierarchs and clerics of the Archdiocese.

In the south-central city of Halkida, a con-celebratory Vespers was solemnly held at the celebrating Cathedral of St. Demetrios, officiated by the visiting Metropolitan of Gortynia and Megalopoli, His Eminence Nikiforos, and co-officiated by the resident Metropolitan, His Eminence Chrysostomos.
