Patriarch of Alexandria gives interview to Greek state television

The Pope and Patriarch of Alexandria and All Africa, His Beatitude Theodoros II, speaking during an interview with Greek state television this week, referred to the reasons behind a suspension of the practice of commemorating the name of Russian Patriarch, His Holiness Kirill, in liturgies of Patriarchate-affiliated churches and services.

His Beatitude referred directly to an “intrusion” by the Russian Patriarchate into the Church of Alexandria’s ecclesiastical jurisdiction on the continent of Africa.
