Newly enthroned Archbishop of Cyprus Georgios III receives political party leader Neofytou

The newly enthroned Archbishop of Nova Justiniana and All Cyprus, His Beatitude Georgios III, this week received the president of the DISY political party, Averof Neofytou, at the Archdiocese Palace in Nicosia.

The latter congratulated His Beatitude on his election and enthronement, while expressing his appreciation, as he said, over the Archbishop's stated priorities of maintaining social cohesion and reversing demographic decline on the island republic.

Still on the eastern Mediterranean island, the Metropolitan of Limassol, His Eminence Athanasios, on Wednesday officiated at a festal Divine Liturgy on the occasion of the feast day of St. Athanasios, his namesake, and Patriarch Cyril. The liturgy was celebrated at the Cathedral of the Panaghia Pantanassis in the port city of Limassol.
