

Feast day of Xenia, Deaconess of Rome

The Church today venerates the memory of Xenia, Deaconess of Rome. Today is also the feast day of Venerable Neophytos, the Recluse of Cyprus.

The Pemptousia TV platform today has posted a feature on the Chapel of St. Xenia in central Athens. A vestal Vespers was held on Monday afternoon, the eve of the feast day, at the Chapel by the visiting Metropolitan of Syros, His Eminence Dorotheos II, as the specific chapel is a glebe of the Holy Metropolis of Syros.
