Archbishop of Athens & All Greece Ieronymos on need to support young people, their families

The Archbishop of Athens and All Greece, His Beatitude Ieronymos, on Monday referred to the need to support young people and their families, speaking at a New Year's cake-cutting event at the Archdiocese of Athens, for priests assigned to youth and parent schools.

His Beatitude remembered his ministry at the Metropolis of Thebes, before his election to the throne of the Church of Greece, and the specific Metropolis' care for young people.
