Orthodoxy builds strong roots in the land of the Masai

Orthodox clerics affiliated with the Patriarchate of Alexandria and All Africa continue to persist in missionary and humanitarian works in one of the continent's most hard-pressed areas, and in the face of continued threats and even persecution.

Fr. Kong' ai Neo is one such cleric, whose missionary work over the past years has spread Orthodox Christianity to the legendary Masai tribe in Kenya. The foremost project, in fact, in Fr. Neo's parish is the Orthodox School of N'goru
